Firing Of Two Nurses Upheld; Rings Involved

LANSING (AP) - The State Civil Service Commission has upheld the firing of two nurses, including the president of the local union at Caro State Home and Training School, for wearing rings while on duty.

Four employes were fired and 12 others suspended in the battle of the rings at the hospital. The Michigan State employes union had declared last an. 17 as "ring day" to protest the ban.

The union said the rule was unreasonable and was not imposed at any other state institution.

commission decision, however, left a way open for a return to work by the two fired employes-Mrs. Gloria Martin, president of the union local, and Mrs. Esther School. Mrs. Martin had 18 years of service and Mrs. Scholl had been employed by the Caro home for 10 years. The commission asked State Personnel Director Franklin K. DeWald to negotiate a return to work provided the employes:

-Request a return and certiby willingness to comply with rules concerning the wearing of jewelry and other hospital regulations subject to normal grievance rights

-Accept a suspension without pay from the day they were severed from the payroll last

The commission upheld a ruling by a hearing officer not to accept "late" appeals of two other dismissed union members, William Watkins and aren Craig. They were offered the same opportunity to apply for The commission reversed the initial three-day-suspensions by the hospital of the dismissed employed and six others. It was found the hospital failed to abide by the grievance time limits imposed on management in processing the suspensions.

Ten-day suspensions for six other employes involved in the ring dispute were upheld. Another six employes suspended did not appeal to the commission.

The commission said the employes "deliberately failed to comply with hygiene and safety regulations of the hospital."

"The suspensions were a necessary and reasonable exercise of discipline," the commission ruling said. "Employes must follow directives subject to the grievance procedure and wildcat refusals to work cannot be condoned."

NON-CATHOLICS GAIN

LONDON (AP)-The number of non-Roman Catholic Christians in Brazil rose from 1,820,000 in 1960 to 2,902,000 by 1968, the South American Missionary Society was told during recent celebrations here of the 125th anniversary of its foundation. Ernest Oliver, secretary of the Evangelical Missionary Alliance and executive secretary of the Regions Beyond Missionary Union, said the increase meant a growth of eight per cent in the number of Protestant churches in Brazil. The population of Brazil is about 85 million.

No Safety Here

The Escanaba area recently had its first public exposure to the drug problem and if national publicity is any indicator it won't be the Three young men were involved in the Escanaba case, which came to police attention when one of them on what was described as a "bad" LSD "trip" burst through the heavy glass front door of a downtown building and wound up mumbling incoherently on Ludington Street. In this case, the young man came out of the "trip" and aside from a few cuts and bruises apparently suffered no ill effects. But not all LSD and drug experiences end so fortunately.

The nation's press has reported any number of deaths — the most well-known probably being Art Linkletter's daughter - due to drugs, but the dangers haven't been fully documented.

And what is being ignored in the drug experimentation by young people are the possible personal hazards and dangers to other members of society.

How would an innocent citizen have felt. for example, if the young man who sailed through the glas door in Escanaba had charged in front of his car and had been hit and killed or seriously injured? It could have happened.

That the nation has a drug problem is well established. Marijuana use is widespread, particularly among college students. LSD also is readily available in many areas.

What is frightening is that the behavior of a person under the influence of drugs often is unpredictable. LSD is so powerful that even the smallest dosage can send a person into the "never, never land" for an undetermined length of time and there is no assurance whatsoever that after a "trip" has ended that it won't be repeated at another time - like when driving down Ludington St. during a busy shopping hour even without another dose.

How serious is the drug situation in Esca-

That's hard to determine. Some young people report that marijuana is relatively easy to purchase; that anyone with the price and desire can buy it. But complaints to the police department have not been frequent and some reports Indicate that maybe some of the "marijuana" being sold isn't the real thing, merely a ground up substitute which apears to be marijuana.

As far as LSD, Prosecutor John Beauchamp commented that the recent case was the first use of the drug known publically in the city.

The point is, however, that the Escanaba area is not immune to drugs. As such, there should be concern.

Nationally, use or misuse of the various types of drugs available has been compared to experimentation by the younger set with liquor or tobacco - it's something that's "in" during these years of emphasis on the freedom to "do

What the "establishment" is concerned about, however, are those times when "doing your thing" infringes on the rights of others to "do their things." If a person goes on a drunk in his own home and sleeps it off on his own couch, this is his own business. But when a person goes on a drunk at a local bar and sleeps it off behind the wheel of his automobile he becomes a public

With drugs the same is true, except that the behavior when under the influence isn't nearly as predictable as that of a person under the influence of alcohol. And so while the cry may come to legalize marijuana, the consequences to date don't justify that cry.

"Statements that marijuana is 'medically safe' are not supported by scientific evidence." reports the National Institute of Mental Health. "We do not know the physical effects fully. Long-term effects are absolutely unknown."

The same is true for other drugs. And where the ice is not firm, people should

A picture in the Menominee Herald-Leader clearly shows why the new 1970 Michigan license plates are not too popular with police. The gold and white tags are just too difficult to read. "In police work we have to read license plates fast," Menominee Police Chief Ervin Mouritsen said. "As far as I'm concerned, I disagree with the colors 100 per cent." The maroon and white plates used in 1969 were much easier to read than the gold and white tags, Menominee County Sheriff Ed Reindl added.

Two juveniles, both 16, were arrested in Calumet by state police and charged with breaking and entering. Police said the pair admitted entering the home of a 90-year-old man in Calumet Township and taking a sum of money from the man's billfold. One of the youths first gained entry to the home without the man's knowledge and hid in a closet. The other boy then rang the man's doorbell and kept him occupied by talking about shoveling his sidewalk while the first youth went through the house. The billfold was found in an upstairs bedroom.

A little momento of the deer season was left on the porch of the home of game warden James Dab in Ironwood. Pranksters — in apparent allusion to the warden's duty of apprehending game violators — left the severed head of a deer on the porch of his house. Ironwood police took it away.

Con G. Ahearn, superintendent of the Menominee County Road Commission, will end a 45year career in January. Now 63, he started working for the road agency in June of 1925 and has been superintendent the last 24 years. Ahearn will be replaced by Charles Behrend, now city engineer at Menominee.

Lower TV Officials Agree With Agnew

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN The heads of the big TV broadcasting systems, in responding as they did to Vice President Spiro Agnew's criticisms, certainly laid themselves open to the charge that they don't know what is going on under their noses in their own empires.

Dr. Frank Stanton of CBS and Leonard Goldenson of ABC are not bad men, but neither, for that matter, was the Bourbon Queen Marie Antoinette a bad woman. She just wasn't hep to what was being said of her royal court's short-comings by courtiers who might, if she had had the wit to listen, have clewed her in on how to distinguish betw een bread and cake.

The truth is that Spiro Agnew's case against the TV coverage practices had been made by important second-rung network officials a full two months before the Vice President decided to step in and function as a "Tribune of the People."

Apparently Agnew was oblivious of the fact that Edith Efron, who published her findings in TV Guide for Sept. 27, 1969, had interviewed CBS's Bill Leonard, ABC's documentary producer Steve Fleisch-ABC's Lester Cooper, NBC's Eliot Frankel, CBS's Desmond Smith, NBC's Shad Northshield and others who work down the halls from Dr. Stanton. Goldenson and the rest of the TV top brass. What these people had to say added up to Agnewism, pure and simple. One can only wonder how Dr. Stanton and Goldenson missed it all.

* * * Said ABC's Leonard Goldenson, in his dismissal of Agnew in November: "The performance of ABC news has always been, and will continue to be, fair and objective." But ABC's Steve Fleischman, as quoted by Miss Efron in September, was not talking this way. He was sincerely worried about ABC

"People feel we've given too much play to the radicals," said

What Agnew insisted upon in November was that TV tends to reflect a rather narrow view of all our dominant issues. Well, listen to what NBC's Shad Northshield was saying in-September.

"In TV news departments," Northshield told Miss Efron, "we appear to know a lot about the black minority. It's the silent majority we must explore. We haven't done it. We didn't know it was there."

Curious, isn't it, that Northshield used the phrase, "the silent majority," two months before Nixon and Agnew picked

* * * Again, it was in September, long before Agnew moved into action, that NBC news president Reuven Frank said to Miss Efron, "The general view of the public is that we have too many radicals in the network news departments."

And it was in September also that CBS's Phil Lewis said "we're beginning to realize we've ignored the majority. America doesn't end at the Hudson.

Echoing Phil Lewis, also in the month of September, CBS news star Joseph Benti confessed to Miss Efron: "We spend so much time on angry blacks, angry youth. But what about that vast forgotten army out mad as hell because their story isn't being told?'

And, still in September, CBS's Desmond Smith said "there's been a great deal of manipulation from the left. The left and SDS have been getting a great deal of play. Americans are getting to feel they're not getting the whole story."

Fred Freed of NBC, another pre-Agnew commentator from within TV's own ranks, really took his hair down for Miss

"This generation of newsmen," he said, "is a product of the New Deal. These beliefs at a beauty shop. A beautician was unable to arouse the 100-year-old woman and thought she was dead. The police were called, but suddenly Mrs. Priest "just woke up." Policeman Wayne Costa, who answered the call, radioed back that all was well and that it was just a case of a 100year-old woman who was hard to awaken from a nap. Mrs. Priest, who said she was unaware of efforts to awaken her, added that she was embarrassed about the disturbance she caused.

Deal are the beliefs, that news has grown on. This is true of the networks, of Newsweek, of The New York Times, of all media. Men of like mind are in the news. It's provincial. The blue-and-white-collar people who are in revolt now do have cause for complaint against us. We've ignored their point of view. It's bad. It's bad to pretend they don't exist. We did this because we tend to be upper-middle-class liberals. We think the poor are 'better' than the middle-class. We romanticize them. The best thing that happened to me was a month I spent walking in Detroit slums after the riots. I stoppel romanticizing the poor. I've come to understand that it's really the same with all classes they're human beings like everyone else."

I really don't like to write a column cribbing from another reporter's quotations. But, since Spiro Agnew has been subjected to such massive scorn from the TV top brass (and the "liberal" community general), someone has to make the point that the Vice President was merely repeating what Dr. Stanton, Goldenson, et al., might have learned if they had only read their own inter-office

Moreover, someone has to nominate Edith Efron and TV Guide for a Pulitzer Prize. I hereby do so.

Yuletime Newsletters Bug' Lot Of People

Dear Ann Landers: The best column you ever wrote was an assault on Christmas newsletters. Please do a re-run. Those who haven't seen it, should. Those who have seen it should see it again. Thanks. - K. C.

Dear K. C.: Here it is, not only for you but for J. O. of Vallejo, Calif., R. R. L. of Alma, Mich., J. T. of Amarillo, Texas, I.D. of Bismarck, N.D., E. G. of Burlington, Vt., M and F. of Superior, Wis., S. T. of Layfayette, Ind., and others.

Dear Ann: Why do normally intelligent folks take leave of their senses at Christmas time? I refer to people who compose interminable chronicles of the year's activities, and mail them to everyone who has sent them so much as a rummage sale announcement during the year. It is the height of ego-centricity to assume that anyone, save a few intimate friends, would wade through all that verbiage. I am galled by the attempts to portray glowing pictures of affluence and success. I have before me several Family Newsletters from which I shall lift bits of pieces, changing the names and places for obvious reasons. I've strung together ten mailings to illustrate the point. Here's the composite:

"Dear Friends: What a great year! Jim was named vicepresident of the bank! We celebrated by buying a Mercedes and flying off to the Orient. Dumb me fell off a ladder while hanging curtains at the U.S.O. Center.

We were surprised to read in the paper that he had won a $100 prize in The American Legion Essay Contest. He never even knew he had entered! Dear Friends: We've had a rotten year. Bill was passed over for promotion again so he quit his job. He hasn't anything lined up yet but he's listed with the employment agencys and looks in the Want-Ads every day. In the meantime, he is drinking like a fish. Having him around the house all day hasn't done much for my disposition.

Mary is protesting something and shaved her head two weeks ago. Her father is not speaking to her which is just as well because I think she is deaf from all that loud music. Letters To The Press

REPLY TO DOTSCH

The school board, it is true,

In reply to "Let us Have Patience" by James D. Dotsch of is elected by the people of the school district to do the job of making the policy necessary to operate our schools. These board members are only lay people like yourself. They have no special training that qualifies them for the position they hold. As ordinary human beings they are subject to all of the pitfalls of the rest of us mortals. One of the pitfalls that can befall anyone is to make a mistake and not have the courage to admit it.

The school board is charged with the responsibility of spend ing over $330,000 of the taxpayers money for educational purposes. The operation of a school district is big business and, as such, requires the services of experts who are interested in education. It would seem that with the decided lack of interest on the part of the local taxpayers, as evidenced by their lack of attendance at school board meetings, it is a good thing that the teachers have a voice as to what happens to at least part of the money in the school district. Who is better acquainted with educational matters in the Big Bay de Noc School District than the teachers?

Public Act 379, passed not long ago by the legislature of Michigan, gives he teachers the legal right to bargain for their wages. The teachers are to sit down as equals with the board to negotiate for their conditions. of employment. You may disagree with the law, but as a citizen you are bound by it. The purse strings; all we ask for is tactics of the School Board. a chance to negotiate.

striking. It is the strike that has forced the cost of living up all over the country. Is it fair that everyone can strike but the teacher? Are the teachers to be criticized for setting a bad example to the youth of the community? If anything, the youth of the community look up to the teachers as among the most respected and respectable people they are in contact with. If striking is such a crime, why is it that the school board has not taken some steps to get the teachers back into school with a court injunction? Since the strike has started, the citizens of the school district have been very vocal about the poor quality of teachers employed in their schools. Why is it that these so called "poor" teachers have been allowed to teach? Why is it that a new teacher, fresh out of college, has never had one evaluation in almost 21/2 years with the district? It can only be chalked up to indifference or incompetence.

The taxpayers and others in the district keep echoing the same old refrain about Big Bay de Noc being such a poor district. Its pure nonsense. The state equalized valuation behind each child in the district is higher than any district in Delta or Schoolcraft county using our 1969-70 figure and the 1968-69 figures for the counties. This is only an indication because two different years are used, but the fact remains that we are not a poor district.

My advice, for what its worth, is for the local citizens to start paying more attention to the state appointed officials that have made their recommendations and pay less attenteachers have not asked for the tion to the "brain-washing"

> Carl Freiberg, President,

(Editor's Note: The Big Bay de Noc school district, according to figures supplied by the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District, has the second highest state equalized valuation per child of high school districts in the two counties. Barry Pierson of St. Ignace, a member of the University of Michigan's Rose Bowl bound football team, was honored on Wednesday by fans in his home town. Pierson, who was returning home to spend the holiday with his mother, Mrs. Fred Pierson, was met at the Mackinac Bridge by a large crowd of St. Ignace residents and he was handed the key to the city by the mayor. The mayor also said he would request the city council to proclaim Jan. 1 as "Barry Pierson Day" in St. Ignace.

Pierson finished the regular season at Michigan with one touchdown for six points, the top punt returner with 20 for 292 yards, fourth in kickoff returns with three for 65 yards, third in tackles with 47 solo and 16 assists and second in interceptions with seven for 84 yards, the longest runback being 37 yards. He was second in the Big Ten in punt returns with 15.

Another former U. P. athletic standout, Pat Miller of Menominee, just completed his first year of football at Michigan State University, where he did the punting for the Spartans this fall, Miller, attending Michigan State on a basketball scholarship, finished second in the Big Ten in the punting department with 38 boots for a 39.4 yard average. For the season, Miller punted 41 times for 1,620 yards and a 39.5 average.

* * * Dick Salani of Hancock, Back of the Year in the U. P. for the 1968 season, received a freshman letter at Michigan State University, where he participated on the freshman football team as an end. He was the only player from the Upper Peninsula on the Spartan frosh squad. * * *

The Upper Peninsula had four first team selections, one second team nomination and 29 honorable mentions on the UPI All-State football teams announced last week. Making the first teams were Tom Pfotenhauer of Gladstone, Class B; Ray Bray of Norway and John Brown of St. Ignace, Class C; and Martin Ledy of DeTour, Class D. Terry Froberg of Gwinn was named on the Class B second team. Area players receiving honorable mention were Tom Kangas and Mike Dupont of Escanaba, Mark Johnson and Dan Young of Holy Name, Cliff Young of Gladstone and Kim Riedy of Powers-Spalding.

Switching to basketball, Bob Gale, a 6 foot 5 inch senior from Trout Creek, is slated to start at forward for the Michigan State University basketball team this season. He is a two-year letterman reserve, who had several early season starts last year.

Living Room Space Program Costly One

By ALLEN NACHEMAN PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) with a pencil and paper during $2.44. the moon shots and figure what it's costing you in taxes?

And you'd like yours back in

Changes Mind

I used to feel that way, but the coming of Christmas has brought me to my senses. It Doll crowd? hasn't made me more patriotic, just more mercenary. I see now that it would cost me less in the long run to let the government run the space program than to conduct it in my living room, Murray which is the alternative.

This is the season when strange people come into your home through the television set and explain to your children how they can spend twice your salary. And my 3-year-old is beginning to understand what they're talking about.

He sits in front of the set and watches Major Matt Mason driving his space buggy around Venus and he looks at me wide-eyed and asks, "Hat dat?"

Not For Sale

But then the network news cuts in with pictures of the real astronauts walking on the moon and I can say to the kid, "We can't buy Major Matt. See? He's working for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

This is easier for him to understand than if I tell him, "Listen, kid. Your old man isn't making enough to support four people, a dog and a space program."

Has all this been getting by you? Have you been raiding the refrigerator during every commercial?

Expensive Type

Major Matt, a 6-inch plastic doll, sells for $2.99 and his buddy, astronaut Jeff, is $2.44. Their talking space station. which furnishes authentic astronaut jargon at the pull of a string, goes for $7.99.

A powerful lunar tractor and protectively tinted space bubble to carry Matt and Jeff around your living room cost $8.99 and a mobile satellite launcher with its own 40 x 24 inch moonscape is $11.99. Are you taking this down?

Billy Blastoff, America's first boy in space, outfitted with space car, sled, tractor and crawler, is $5.99.
